DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1,3,4,8,11,12,17,20,22 and 23 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 and 11-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,729,227 in view of Morino et al. The claims are merely an obvious variation of the patented claims in view of that disclosed in Morino. Morino discloses that it is old and well known in the art to use a controller which receives signals from a tray sensor and door sensor, to control a bread making apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 3, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the original specification for the sensing member being placed on the baking tray at the location shown or described in the amended drawing or specification. The subject matter is considered to be new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 6, 8-20, 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morino et al.

There is disclosed in Morino a bread maker, comprising: a main body 31 having a door opening 32 and forming a bread making space 33; a door 34 to open and close the door opening; a baking tray 44 removably mounted in the bread making space; a tray sensor 174 to sense whether the baking tray is mounted in the bread making space; a door sensor 147 to sense whether the door is closed or open; and a controller 148 to control a bread making process after receiving a signal from the sensors; wherein the tray sensor includes a sensing member 176, a pivot arm 179 mounted on a pivot 178 and a sensing switch 180.

Morino discloses the claimed invention except for a tray sensing member provided in the door. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to locate the tray sensor of Morino in the door or any other location as opposed to the bottom of the heating chamber, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 17 August 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that it would not be obvious to position the tray sensor of Morino et al. in the door of the heating apparatus as opposed to the bottom of the heating apparatus.

The Morino invention discloses an alternative location for an element which performs the same function as the claimed element. Since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art, (In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70) then it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to locate the tray sensor of Morino in the door. There is nothing new or novel about sensing a tray in a bread baking apparatus and controlling a bread making function as a result of a signal provided by that sensor.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
